Community Crime Map

Bloomington, IL - The Bloomington Police Department publishes crime data to an easy-to-use website. The website, <https://communitycrimemap.com/map>, is accessible by anyone in the community. The map will show you the report number, type of crime involved, date and time, as well as an approximate location for the incident. You can filter search results to narrow or expand the date range and types of crimes you are interested in viewing. The crime data on this website will be updated several times a week.

You can also sign up for daily, weekly, or monthly email alerts about crime occurring within a certain distance of an address of interest, such as your home, workplace or school. If you sign up, we recommend signing up for the weekly alert option.

You may be buying a home or helping your child find an apartment for student housing. This can be a helpful resource to assist in narrowing your choices.

This is another great tool being used by the Bloomington Police Department, which helps keep everyone informed and improves accountability within the community.
